The Library’s Latest:  March 2013

A Note From the Coordinator

—Over the past month the library had the following circulation statistics:

▲ Checkouts: 18
▲ Renewals: 9
▲ Information Requests: 109
▲ Web articles/printouts sent out: 105
▲ Pamphlets sent out: 621
▲ New Patrons: 3
▲ Mediated Searches: 6
▲ Out of State Requests: 8

▲ Web Sites’ Page Visits:
—CDR Library: 283
—Library Blog: 1070
—CDR: 451
—TECS: 810
—Supported Living: 68
—InfoAble Portal: 61

—Make sure to check out the list of New Additions on the newsletter’s left side column and on the subsequent pages.

CDR Library Coordinator, Steven Wilson
803-216-3206

—Also, if you have any announcements that you’d like me to post on the blog site or the newsletter, just send them to:

Steve.wilson@uscmed.sc.edu

See What’s New in the CDR Blog!

• PAALS Puppy Love Ball
• Moms celebrate the accomplishments of their babies with Down Syndrome
• Autism Society Lego Club
• National Eating Disorders Association “Virtual Walk”

Note: To read these and other articles click here:
http://cdrlibraryblog.blogspot.com/
Great Books and Videos

“Great Books and Videos

Spotlight on These New Additions...

“If you are the parent of a child with autism or a new parent looking to decrease your child’s risk, Dr. Robert Sears can help. The Autism Book offers indispensable information, a complete treatment plan, and extensive resources to assist you in navigating the maze of autism…. The Autism Book also provides a simple and clear explanation of the integrative treatment approach the Dr. Sears has uses successfully with many of his young patients. It offers all the tools you need to make informed choices and help your child recover.”

Socially Curious and Curiously Social (2011)

“This anime-illustrated guidebook is written for teens and young adults to learn how the social mind is expected to work in order to effectively relate to others at school, at work, in the community and even at home. Since there is relatively little information on how to talk about social information, this book redefines what it means to “be social” - and it is likely not what you think!”

“This text is a gem because it addresses the concepts of Positive Behavior Support without compromising on scientific integrity or overloading the reader with obscure behavioral terms. I will definitely refer to this text in my staff development programs in the future.”

“~ Unknown

Center for Disability Resources Library
University of South Carolina
School of Medicine
Columbia, SC 29208
Phone: 803-216-3206
Fax: 803-216-3223
steve.wilson@uscmed.sc.edu
http://uscm.med.sc.edu/cdr
Spotlight on These New Additions...

Superflex takes on Glassman and the Team of Unthinkables (2009)

“Superflex, our Social Thinking superhero, helps teach elementary school students about how they can use strategies to conquer their own, not quite so flexible Team of Unthinkables. Through this humorous and delightful comic book, students are encouraged to think about thinking and what they can do to self-regulate some of their own wayward thoughts and behaviors.”

You are a Social Detective! Explaining Social Thinking to Kids (2008)

“Finally, a book that appeals to kids with ASD by using cartoons to convey the subtleties of “expected” and “unexpected” social behaviors. Even better is that there are enough examples to allow kids to grasp the core concepts of Social Thinking. As my teenage son Adam explains it, ‘The best part about his book is finding out how to make other people happy.’”

Good Going! Successful Potty Training for Children in Child Care (2004)

“Lucky is the toddler who attends a child care program that follows the excellent advice conveyed in Good Going! Gretchen Kin nell has crafted a straightforward and comprehensive guide to successful potty training that respects the needs of the toddler, the parents, and the caregiver.”

NEDAwareness Week is the largest education and outreach effort on eating disorders in the United States. The aim of NEDAwareness Week is to increase awareness and education about eating disorders and body image issues for effective recognition, early intervention and direction to care. This year’s NEDAwareness Week theme is “Everybody Knows Somebody” because awareness of eating disorders is certainly spreading, as is the knowledge that eating disorders do not discriminate—ANYONE can be effected. NEDAwareness Week is a collective effort of volunteers, including eating disorder professionals, health care providers, students, educators, social workers, organizations and individuals committed to raising awareness of eating disorders. The impact of increased outreach efforts leads to a greater chance of people seeking out resources and help for an eating disorder, which ultimately saves lives.
“Disability is a matter of perception. If you can do just one thing well, you’re needed by someone.”

~ Martina Navratilova

an Evening of Hopes & Dreams

a Gala and Auction to Benefit Family Connection of SC

The Hall at Senate’s End, Columbia, SC
Sunday, April 28, 2013
6-9 pm

For more information on sponsorship opportunities or to donate auction items, please contact (803) 252-0914, infor@familyconnectionsc.org or visit www.FamilyConnectionSC.org

All proceeds to benefit Family Connection of South Carolina

Making Connections for Children with Special Healthcare Needs

---

About the Library

The library is a collaborative effort between BabyNet/South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control, the Center for Disability Resources, the South Carolina Department of Disabilities and Special Needs, and the University of South Carolina School of Medicine Library. The CDR Library consists of books, videos, brochures, and audiotapes covering a variety of disability-related topics. The Center for Disability Resources Library is located within the University of South Carolina School of Medicine Library on Garners Ferry Road.